Meghan by Andrew Morton

When Meghan Markle and Prince Harry were set up by a mutual friend on a blind date in July 2016, little did they know that the resulting whirlwind romance would lead to their engagement in November 2017 and marriage in May 2018.

Ghostbuster's Daughter by Violet Ramis Stiel

Most of us know Harold Ramis as the filmmaker and actor who brought warmth and humor to the big screen in classics like Caddyshack, Ghostbusters, National Lampoon's Vacation, Groundhog Day, and National Lampoon's Animal House. To Violet Ramis, he was best known as an amazing father, confidant, and friend.

Differently Wired by Deborah Reber

Today millions of kids are stuck in a world that doesn't respect, support, or embrace who they really are—these are what Deborah Reber is calling the “differently wired” kids, the one in five children with ADHD, dyslexia, Asperger's, giftedness, anxiety, sensory processing disorder, and other neurodifferences.

Rome: A History in Seven Sackings by Matthew Kneale

No city on earth has preserved its past as has Rome. Visitors stand on bridges that were crossed by Julius Caesar and Cicero, walk around temples visited by Roman emperors, and step into churches that have hardly changed since popes celebrated mass in them sixteen centuries ago.

The Feather Thief by Kirk Wallace Johnson

One June evening in 2009, after performing a concert at the Royal Academy of Music, flautist Edwin Rist boarded a train for the British Museum of Natural History. The museum was full of rare bird specimens whose feathers were worth staggering amounts of money. Once inside, Edwin grabbed hundreds of bird skins—some collected 150 years earlier and escaped into the darkness.

Calypso by David Sedaris

David Sedaris returns with his most deeply personal and darkly hilarious book. If you've ever laughed your way through David Sedaris's cheerfully misanthropic stories, you might think you know what you're getting with Calypso. You'd be wrong.

The Recovering by Leslie Jamison

With its deeply personal and seamless blend of memoir, cultural history, literary criticism, and journalistic reportage, The Recovering turns our understanding of the traditional addiction narrative on its head, demonstrating that the story of recovery can be every bit as electrifying as the train wreck itself.

Believe Me by John Fea

“Believe me” may be the most commonly used phrase in Donald Trump's lexicon. And to the surprise of many, about 80% percent of white evangelicals have believed Trump—at least enough to help propel him into the White House. Historian John Fea is not surprised—and in Believe Me he explains how we have arrived at this unprecedented moment in American politics.
